

Last Class of the Year

Today we will talk a bit about news in general. We will review the idea of the availability heuristic. Next, we will go looking for good news to alter our availability heuristic and report it back to class.

Finally, as a replacement to a mock TOEIC, I'm giving you 45 minutes to answer some made up questions that mimic part 5 of the TOEIC test. Send me your answers no later than 18:10, April 24, 2020 or receive 50% of your grade. Answers received later than 18:50 will not be counted.

First part of the class will be a discussion on Discord.

Second part will be a quick read of an article of your choosing from this link:

<https://www.goodnewsnetwork.org/category/news/world/>

You will have 10 minutes to read your article and then give a brief summary to your classmates.
