

CANADA

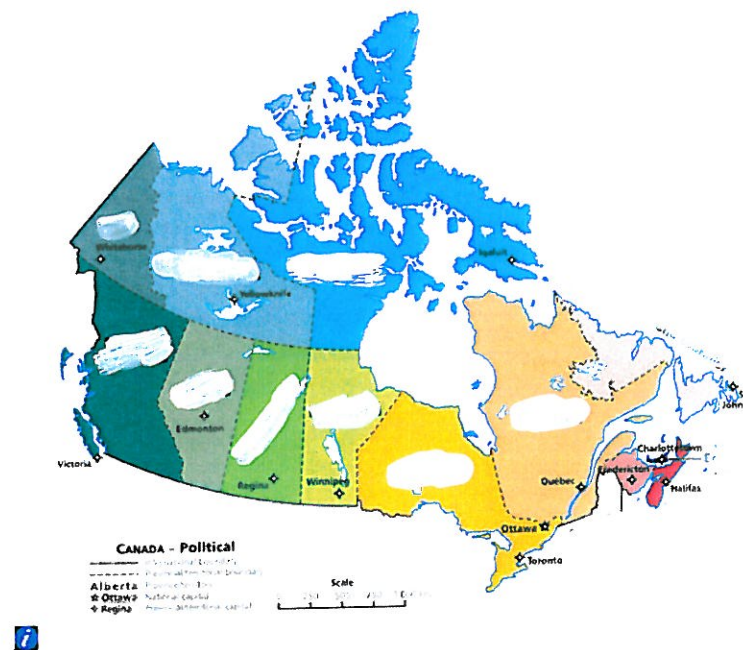

- Multiple choice questions
- Exercise – FAQ
- Listening – Niagara Falls
- Exposés

There are 10 provinces and 3 territories

Provinces and territories

Main articles: Provinces and territories of Canada and Canadian federalism

A clickable map of Canada exhibiting its ten provinces and three territories, and their capitals.

- Manitoba
- Nunavut
- British Columbia
- Quebec
- Newfoundland & Labrador
- Yukon
- Saskatchewan
- Northwest Territories
- New Brunswick
- Alberta
- Nova Scotia
- Ontario
- Prince Edward Island

Multiple choice questions

- 1) Canada extends from east to west from :
  - A) The Atlantic Ocean to the Pacific Ocean
  - B) The Arctic Ocean to the Atlantic Ocean
  - C) The Indian Ocean to the Pacific Ocean
  - D) The Arctic Ocean to the pacific Ocean

- 2) Quebec was founded in :
  - A) 1230
  - B) 1521
  - C) 1608
  - D) 1875

- 3) When did France cede most of its colonies to the British Crown?
  - A) 1542
  - B) 1620
  - C) 1704
  - D) 1763

- 4) What is the meaning of the word Canada, that is Kanata in Iroquoian?
  - A) Village
  - B) Discovery
  - C) Wild
  - D) Freezing

- 5) What is the capital of Canada?
  - A) Toronto
  - B) Montreal
  - C) Ottawa
  - D) Winnipeg

- 6) Who is the president of Canada?
  - A) Wayne Gretzkey
  - B) Pamela Anderson
  - C) Michael R. Bloomberg
  - D) Steven Harper

- 7) Who first set foot in Canada?

- A) Jacques Cartier
  - B) James Cook
  - C) Giovanni Caboto
  - D) Christopher Columbus
- 8) What is the total length of the St Laurent River?
- A) 1023 km
  - B) 1197 km
  - C) 1215 km
  - D) 1328 km
- 9) What are the four provinces representing the Dominion Canada in 1867?
- A) Yukon Territory, Manitoba, Ontario, New Brunswick
  - B) Ontario, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec
  - C) British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba
  - D) Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec
- 10) Which expression is not used to refer to the famous 19th century Gold Rush
- A) Alaska Gold Rush
  - B) Yukon Gold Rush
  - C) Klondike Gold Rush
  - D) Yellowknife Gold Rush
- 11) How many Frances can you put inside Canada?
- A) 8
  - B) 10
  - C) 12
  - D) 14
- 12) The next Olympic games are to take place in
- A) Vancouver
  - B) Calgary
  - C) Montreal
  - D) Quebec
- 13) What is an inukshuk?
- A) A totem
  - B) An Indian
  - C) An Inuit statue
  - D) An igloo

14) What is the French word for Maple?

- A) Platane
- B) Erable
- C) Chêne
- D) Charme

15) Who are the main inhabitants of Nunavut?

- A) Metis
- B) French speakers
- C) Inuits
- D) Iroquoians

16) Where does a lumberjack work?

- A) In a factory
- B) On the sea
- C) In the forest
- D) In a cinema studio

17) What are the two most important industries in Canada?

- A) Textile and steel
- B) Logging and oil
- C) Tourism and New technologies
- D) Aeronautics and chemicals

18) What does a totem pole never represent?

- A) Familiar legends
- B) Artistic representations
- C) Notable events
- D) Idol Worship

19) What was the monopoly trade of the Hudson Bay company in 1670?

- A) Fur
- B) Timber
- C) Gold
- D) Fish

20) Which animal is the emblem of Canada?

- A) The whale
- B) The polar bear
- C) The caribou
- D) The beaver

About FAQs ( and more...)

Sometimes a FAQ or periodic posting is compiled as a result of extensive research on a specific subject.

A convenient way to share the information with others is by posting the article. In this case, the article might not really be a FAQ - that is, it isn't necessarily based on frequently asked questions.

However, the term FAQ is sometimes used as a catch all term for articles, periodic postings, compilations, etc. It is becoming common practice to refer to some "off-line documentation" as FAQs.

Yes, it's true, off-line documentation still exists, I actually saw some a little while back ;-)...

All sorts of stuff now comes with support-staff-written FAQs, whereas they would have been called Q&A sections before.

Many of the FAQs found on USENET or the Internet today (including this one :-)) could actually be considered NSFAQBTIWTS - Not So Frequently Asked Questions, But Things I Wanted To Share (thanks to Robin Getz for this gem).

They can also be referred to as LFAQ (Less Frequently Asked Questions). Where is Chicken

Read more: <http://www.faqs.org/faqs/faqs/about-faqs/#ixzz0U2OubGIL>

-----

Now, use FAQs-like, NSFAQBTIWTS-like or even LFAQ-like display form to talk about the topic you have chosen.

- Though FAQs-like, don't mention the actual questions to your audience : they will have to guess what questions you are answering !

Niagara Falls

a history

Daredevils can be best summarized as persons who wish to take conscious risks with their lives with the emphasis on survival. However, some risks are so great that the chances of survival based upon a balance of probabilities become so little that they become suicidal in nature. It may be a thin line of definition but a line none the less. Now days, the art of being a daredevil has become so sophisticated that chances of survival are almost predictable.

Most of the contraptions that the daredevils used usually had a nickname or had a statement printed on it (such as something political, a charity, and a sponsor or of course their own name). The numbers never really were an issue. Weight, balance, ballast and of course the odds of survival were the only true numbers the daredevils cared much for. Most importantly they pursued fame and fortune or notoriety. None have ever become rich and/or lastingly famous....yet.

If you weren't the very first, remarkably the members of the public didn't care beyond perhaps watching the event. Spectators came not watching for a successful conclusion but rather the deadly consequences of failure.

Daredevils of today can't compare to those of forty years ago because of changing water conditions and technological innovations. Niagara Falls has 12-15 suicides each year. This number has been fairly constant for the past century. The difference between the two types of persons is that by pure luck...someone may survive. If they do survive, they are considered a daredevil.

ORAL EXERCISE – You don't listen to the tape at all, you just watch the video and try to imagine the journalist's comment and the fireman's testimony. Of course you have to put into relief the dangerous and heroic aspects of the situation. You also have to remember that the event takes place in a unique and incredible spot. Then when you imagine the fireman's testimony try to stick to his lips movements, don't make speeches shorter or longer than the actual speeches.

The Maid of the Mist

